

VIRTUAL STUDENT CONFERENCE

11 NOVEMBER 2020

2020 3RD SEG VIRTUAL STUDENT CONFERENCE

HOSTED BY STUDENTS OF THE SEG EUROPE & EURASIA REGIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEES

Call for abstracts: 1 July to 1 October

This virtual conference is organized by students, for students, and aims to help early-career geoscientists network and share their work in a short-format setting.

After the success of the 1st and 2nd SEG Virtual Student conferences, we are hosting the third conference in November 2020. This virtual conference is for European and Eurasian students. It is open to all final year undergraduate, Masters, and PhD students across Europe and Eurasia. Students who have not yet been able to present at a major conference but would like to share their work are encouraged to attend. Equally it is a great opportunity for more experienced students to present within their network. Students who don't have anything to present are welcome to register to see their peers' work.

Why participate?

- Share research ideas
- Network with peers across Europe and Eurasia
- Develop science communication

Questions?

student.conference@seg.org

LEARN MORE